

YOUTHS CONFESS FRANKS MURDER

PLOT TO KIDNAP DEvised MONTHS AGO, BOTH CLAIM

Leopold and Loeb Break Down After Grilling and Admit Kidnapping and Murder of Fourteen Year Old Boy—Slew Him With Chisel and Used Acid to Discolor Body to Prevent Identification—Sought Adventure and Ransom, They Claim—Relate Details of Crime.

CHICAGO, May 31.—Robert E. Crowe, States attorney, announced early today that Nathan E. Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, youthful members of wealthy Chicago families and post-graduate students at a university here, had confessed that they kidnaped and murdered 14-year-old Robert Franks, son of Jacob Franks, retired millionaire pawn broker and manufacturer.

They said they planned the kidnapping in great detail last November, both through a split of adventure and because they wanted the $10,000 ransom they demanded, said Mr. Crowe. The youths said they determined upon no definite victim and that the kidnapping and murder of young Franks were merely incidental.

The kidnapping was carried out in every detail as planned, including the victim's death, Mr. Crowe said. Leopold and Loeb confessed. He said Leopold admitted writing a letter to the father of the Franks boy, demanding $10,000 and that the automobile used to spirit away their victim was a rented machine.

"The finding of the spectacles near the boy's body," predicted our only tangible clue, said Mr. Crowe. "It was through that that the kidnapping and slaying was traced to young Leopold. The typewriter used and clothing stripped from young Franks have never been recovered," said Mr. Crowe, but it was expected to have them by the afternoon.

"The little fellow was killed by a blow on the head and then strangled," States Attorney Crowe declared. "A chisel wrapped with tape was used to strike the blow."

The chisel was found by Herald and examiner reporters about four blocks from the school which the Franks boy attended.

States Attorney Crowe added that either was to be used if the boy had not been killed as he was. This, he said, was all explained in the confession.

Each Accuses Other
The killing, the two admitted, Mr. Crowe said, was done in an automobile of the same make as owned by Leopold.

Leopold and Loeb each accused the other of striking the blow with the chisel.

Leopold was calm as he made his confession, Mr. Crowe said.

"Leopold was nonchalant," he added. "The discoloration on the boy's body was caused by acid. States Attorney (Continued on Page Three.)" ing from the judicial standpoint, he said.

"This murder is no different from any other. I shall urge that the case go to trial as speedily as possible. Within thirty days justice should be served."

It was Leopold's spectacles—the principal clue in the case—found near a railroad culvert in which the Franks boy's body was thrust, that led to the arrest of Leopold and Loeb, Mr. Crowe explained.

Today, he took the youths on a search for the clothing of the boy. The clothing had been concealed in one place and the shoes in another it was said.

Calvary Revival
Begins On Sunday
The plans for the revival at Calvary Methodist church, which begins on Sunday night, include a brief prayer meeting each evening at 7:30 in the Flippin Bible Class room, just before the song service in the church auditorium. These prayer meetings will be conducted as follows:

TOWN TOPICS

Proponents of the school bond issue are working earnestly for the culmination of their hopes on June 10th. The frehold list is being carefully checked over and those whose names appear on it are being approached and sounded out as to their attitude towards the school bond issue. Since the original list was published about half a dozen names have been added to it on discovery that property owners qualified to vote had not been included. The bond effort appears to be no concerted effort in behalf of the $50,000 sewer bonds or the $100,000 street improvement bonds.

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce took no definite action yesterday evening at the called meeting to discuss the appointment of a secretary for the organization. A full attendance was lacking and it was considered wisest to postpone formal action until Monday evening at 8 o'clock when it is hoped that the board will be more fully represented. One of three candidates for the position probably will be named as successors to H. B. Watkins, who severs his connection with the organization today. No action was taken yesterday on the campaign to raise the budget for the American Legion convention in August. This, too, will come up Monday evening.

More than five and a half inches of rain fell in Danville and vicinity during the month of May, according to the report sent to Washington by H. M. Watkins, weather observer for the government. The total rain fall was 5 inches 56-100ths. The normal precipitation for the month is four inches this being arrived at by striking an average of the rainfall in May for the past ten years.

Rev. T. Roy Jarrett, pastor of Schoolfield Methodist church, today announced that a revival service will begin at that church tomorrow morning at eleven o'clock and will continue for possibly two weeks. The services will be conducted by Rev. J. M. Oakley, conference evangelist. The first service will be held on Sunday morning at eleven o'clock and every night at eight o'clock.

Agitation has been started here looking to the establishment in Danville of a radio broadcasting station in view of the increasing number of wireless receiving sets which have been installed in rural homes in the surrounding counties. Two local dealers in radio instruments are prime movers of the project. Their plan would be to equip a studio into which would run telephone wires from which point the human voice would be taken up, amplified and broadcast. Churches could be readily equipped with microphones and sermons broadcast as could any local address by any outstanding speaker.

Miss Ruth Carter will graduate from the two year professional course at State Teachers College at Radford on June 3. Miss Carter has gone to Radford to attend the commencement exercises which begin June 6.

The regular civil term of the corporation court opens on Monday morning. Otis Bradley, clerk of the court, had not heard late this morning when the governor has designated to sit for Judge D. P. Withers, who is ailing. He said that he would probably receive a communication from the governor during the course of the day. Judge Withers is an address or is still confined to his bed and it will be impossible for him to preside. The docket embraces sixty-nine cases. One of the largest suits docketed is that of Karnick Allen Company against the Danville Knitting Mills for the recovery of $9,000.

Announcement was made this morning of the discontinuance until next September of the classes for the blind recently instituted here by Miss Ann Connolly, representing the State Commission for the Blind. Miss Connolly has been recalled to Richmond to take up another phase of the Commission's work, but she intends returning. While the attendance at the classes was not what it was hoped to be, definite achievements have been realized by Miss Connolly. Two or three people have, through her efforts, been placed in a position where they can be partially if not wholly self-supporting. The classes conducted by the agents of the commission rarely last through the hot months, it was said.

Two interesting meetings are in prospect for Danville people tomorrow both of them in the afternoon. One of these is a temperance rally at the Public Street tabernacle, where Dr. Hephburn, superintendent of the State Anti-Saloon League, will make an address. The other is an address to be delivered by H. C. Ficklen at the Majestic theatre, and in which local issues will be discussed. Admission will be free to both the "dry" meeting and to the other one.

WEDDING LICENSES
The following wedding licenses have been issued by the clerk of the Corporation court:

Judge McLemore is designated to take the place of Judge D. Price Withers who while gradually recovering from his recent attack of rheumatism, is not well enough to leave his bed just at the present time.

The civil court docket includes 63 cases most of these carried over from previous terms. Many of them it is expected will be continued. One of the most important damage suits on the docket is that of the Warner Aiken Company against the Danville Knitting Mills in which $9,000 damages is asked.

GREGORY RAPS JUDGE CARTER ON INJUNCTION

WEATHER IS IDEAL FOR ABOUT THIS AFTERNOON
(By The Associated Press.)
MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., May 31.—Weather conditions early today were ideal for the ten-round international boxing contest, this afternoon, between Georges Carpentier of Paris and Tommy Gibbons of St. Paul, Minn.

It was sunny and warm at 8 o'clock with an almost cloudless sky and a gentle breeze from the north off Lake Michigan.

Under these conditions the main event this afternoon is expected to start between three and four o'clock, central standard time, the preliminaries beginning at two o'clock.

Easily to Accompany Sheriff Rice Next Week to Richmond When Second Effort to Arrest Banker in Hospital Will Be Made.

(Special to the Bee)
HALIFAX, Va., May 31.—The alias capias ordered by Judge R. B. Gregory in the case of Thomas E. Pool here yesterday was issued today but it is not yet determined when Sheriff Luther Rice will go to Richmond to serve it in obedience to instructions of the local court. In any event when Sheriff Rice goes to Richmond he will be in a difficult position since he cannot disobey the order of the court of his own district by refusing to serve the capias. On the other hand, to disobey the injunction of Judge Scott in Richmond is to court arrest and possible imprisonment.

The question to determine which court has jurisdiction in the Pool matter probably will be settled in an amicable way. Sheriff Rice will be released on bond. The Supreme court does not meet until June and the decision by the court on an unusual question of law, said to be the first of its kind ever raised in Virginia and possibly of other states, will not be made until then.

If Judge Gregory's latest order is not contested and Pool is brought back to Halifax a local physician will be asked to examine Pool and determine whether or not he is fit to be placed in jail. If his physical condition would not be harmed by lodgment in jail he will go there. If he is pronounced too ill for such treatment he will be placed in Halifax hospital at South Boston and a guard maintained at his bedside until the date of his trial June 23rd. It is generally understood that Pool's counsel will resist any further effort to remove the accused former cashier from the hospital.

Commonwealth's Attorney Easley said this morning that the date of his departure with Rice to Richmond was uncertain but he indicated that it would be in the course of a few days.

There is considerable speculation as to what term Henry Ford, assistant cashier, will draw after having pleaded guilty. It is expected that he will receive the minimum sentence of six years which he could be given under any one indictment.

DEATH OF MRS. McDEARMOND

(Special to the Bee)
HALIFAX, Va., May 31.—The proceedings in the case of the Commonwealth's Attorney Easley against Thomas E. Pool failed to reach a defaulting cashier of the Bank of Virginia, reached a climax in the court room at Halifax yesterday morning at 11:30 o'clock when Judge H. B. Gregory, of Roanoke, called the case and Pool failed to respond.

MRS. FARRAR IS APPOINTED MATRON FOR CITY HOME

The prospects of joint operation of a city and county home for the poor became brighter today when it was learned that the County Welfare Board appointed some months ago to negotiate with the City Home Commission on the question of merging the two institutions, think well of the proposition made by the Danville group. The committee met yesterday and went over the proposal carefully.

There is reason to believe that the plan will be recommended to the board of supervisors of Pittsylvania which will meet on Monday at Chatham.

At yesterday's meeting of the City Home Commission Mr. Francis Farrar, of Gretna, was appointed superintendent of the city home, her duties to commence on July 1st, by which time the contractor, M. Weber, hopes to have the building completed.

The salary fixed for the superintendent is $1,000 per annum with her board and living quarters provided. Mrs. Farrar had been considering the position for some days and recently had accepted it. Yesterday she met the members of the Commission and her final acceptance was given. Mrs. Farrar was one of four applicants for the position. She is a widow and a trained nurse with a good deal of institutional experience. She was for some years assistant superintendent of Pine Camp near Richmond, a sanatorium for tubercular patients. The furniture committee has not made its final report though a number of estimates for the new building will cost in the neighborhood of $1,500. With the exception of two bathtubs now in the present almshouse none of the furniture in that building will be removed.

Members of the County Welfare Board met yesterday afternoon with the City Home Commission at which time the whole proposition was gone over. Those present included Rev. M. S. Taylor, chairman of the Danville Commission; B. F. Carter; J. W. Collier, representing the County Board of Supervisors; Judge Ben W. Dodson, Howard Dodson, chairman of the County Board of Welfare; and Dr. L. F. Fuller. The county board is favorable to the proposal made by the City Home Commission which provides that the county add a $50,000 to the home now being built, that county and city share alike in the maintenance of the inmates and joint administration of the building.

The county board will, however, not ask next Monday that the Board of Supervisors approve the plan set out in the home now being built. The whole problem may be better explained. There is no indication at the present time how the Board of Supervisors feels about the matter.

SPEEDY TRIALS FOR 2 YOUTHS IS INDICATED

(By The Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, May 31.—States Attorney Robert E. Crowe, after announcing today that Nathan E. Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, sons of millionaires, had confessed the kidnapping and slaying of Robert Franks, 14-year-old son of another millionaire, declared that they said they once had considered kidnapping a son of Julius Rosenberg, internationally known philanthropist.

Young Loeb is a son of Albert H. Loeb, vice president of Sears Roebuck and Company, of which Mr. Rosenberg is the head.

Leopold had admitted typing the letter demanding $10,000 ransom of Jacob Franks, father of the victim, Mr. Crowe said. He added, first telephoned to the Franks home the night of May 21, after the boy was dead, and told the lad's mother that Robert had been kidnapped but was safe.

Mr. Crowe declared the case would be presented to the new June grand jury, the first case to be placed in the jurors hands.

The stenographic notes of the alleged confessions, he said, were looked up and although he said they might be made public late today he was taking every precaution to make the case complete.

A speedy trial for the two youths was indicated today by Chief Justice Cicerly of the Criminal Court speak.

HOPES FOR FINAL ACTION TODAY ON FARM RELIEF BILL FADE

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 31.—Hopes of proponents of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill for final action by the house before adjournment tonight had faded considerably today, only seven of the 23 pages having been read when yesterday's consideration of amendments ended.

Opponents of the measure, fighting to prevent a show down until early next week to enable a number of members to return from Memorial Day trips away from the capital, had been

TODAY'S Washington LETTER

By HARRY B. HUNT

WASHINGTON, May 31.—"The Democrats, if they are wise, will put the man they want to be president in the second place on their ticket—provided, of course, that he is a real, honest-to-John, upstanding, progressive sort of gent."

Such is the suggestion of La Follette supporters, who believe that if progressive Democrats play the game shrewdly they will be able, by getting their man on the ticket as vice presidential candidate, to land him in the White House on March 4, 1925.

Sounds rather absurd and foolish, doesn't it? But it's really a very wise and accurate proposal. And there's absolutely no catch in it. Follow carefully and you'll find how very simple it is.

With Democrats and Republicans in a neck-and-neck race, a third or independent party which could carry even four or five states would, by preventing either old party from obtaining a majority of the electors, throw the election into Congress.

That much is conceded and is old stuff. In which event the House of Representatives, voting by states, must try to elect a president had the Senate, voting as individuals, ballots for vice president.

With five of the 48 state delegations tied as between Republicans and Democrats, neither party holds a clear majority by states, in the House. La Follette also would be able to control the vote of Wisconsin, recorded as Republican, and perhaps of Minnesota and North Dakota. A deadlock which could be maintained indefinitely might result there. In the Senate, where the membership votes as individuals, the Democrats and La Follette progressives held, together, a clear majority. If the Democratic vice presidential candidate was satisfactory to the La Follette group, there would be little delay in putting him across.

Suppose, then—since this is purely a speculative story—March 4 arrives without the House having selected a president.

President Coolidge's term expires at noon, March 4. No successor, as such, has been chosen. What happens?

A vice president duly elected by the Senate as provided by the constitution, has been chosen.

And the vice president, in event a vacancy occurs in the presidency, succeeds to that office. Therefore, in the steps of the man who has been selected by the Senate as vice president to take the tiller of the Ship of State Q. E. D.

This is the play figured, and figured seriously. So seriously, in fact, that actual discussion of a Democratic vice presidential nomination would be satisfactory to La Follette, has been reached.

Huston Thompson, chairman of the Federal Trade Commission, stands out as the choice for the proposed coalition candidate. It is stated as authoritative that La Follette believes Thompson is the future leader of the progressive movement in this country and would throw his full support behind him to land him in the presidency.

Should the Democrats name him for second place on their ticket, he will doubtless be found also entered in second place on the La Follette independent ticket. Which, of course, would make the above play logical and reasonable.

Still another move is suggested which might land the long-legged progressive from Colorado in the White House.

Should the Democrats see their way clear to nominate him outright for president, La Follette would help him across by keeping out of the race himself.

WILSON CONFESSES TO MURDER OF FLETCHER

(By The Associated Press.)

GASTONIA, N. C., May 30.—Jim Wilson, 22, arrested here this afternoon, as a suspect in the killing of J. H. Fletcher near here last Monday, confessed tonight to the killing. He asserted, according to officers, that he shot Fletcher after the pair had quarreled and after Fletcher had threatened and shot at him with a pistol.

Fletcher's body was found last Tuesday afternoon at the one-room cabin six miles from here where he lived alone. Death had been caused by a load from a shotgun fired into the man's back. In one hand was grasped a pistol with three shells exploded.

ROLAND MACDONALD, 16, HELD FOR THE MURDER OF HIS TEACHER, MISS LOUISE GERISH. IN THE LOWER PICTURE HE IS SHOWN POINTING TO THE SPOT (MARKED BY THE CROSS) WHERE HER BODY WAS FOUND IN A WOODS NEAR AMHERST, MAINE.

By HAROLD MATSON

NEA Service Staff Writer

AMHERST, Me., May 31.—Roland MacDonald, 16, overgrown, furtive, a boy of the woods, liked most to prowl alone in the hills, gun in hand.

Everybody in Amherst knew of the boy Roland's skill with a gun. When he was a small boy he was a good hunter. Birds were easy prey for him. He stalked big game. And he loved to skin his game, and clean it. Oftentimes, when the sport in the woods palled on him, he carried his hunting knife to the limits of this small town. Pets fell under his fire.

Whang! The report of his gun could be heard echoing out of the woods, and the 200 residents of Amherst knew that Roland was killing again. To them he was the town's "bad boy," and accepted as such. Surely, his mother could not be blamed for there were nine younger brothers and sisters, and his father worked in the woods.

One day at dusk the boy was returning from the woods, gun in hand. Near the Williams' house, on a secluded trail, he heard a rustle. With the instinct of a hunter the boy concealed himself in the bushes. A girl walked the path. Roland recognized her. She was his teacher, Louise Gerish, 19, "from out of town."

Roland didn't like school. He was always the oldest boy in his class. And when there was the money the teacher had collected from pupils for selling little bottles of perfume for a mail order company.

Whang! The people of Amherst heard the echoing report and knew that Roland was killing again.

The following day the teacher failed to appear at school. When it became

FORMER ACTRESS SOLE HEIR TO HALF MILLION

(By The Associated Press.) CHICAGO, May 30.—Mrs. Edna Welch, a former actress, today was adjudged the daughter of the late Charles P. Swartz, a former alderman, by a common law marriage and the sole heir to his half million dollar estate. The estate has been in litigation for several years.

The decision of circuit Judge W. A. Brewer upset the claims of opponents to Mrs. Welch that she was the daughter of one Tom Davis and was born on Wolf Island, Canada.

Mrs. Welch's mother had been Swartz's housekeeper. According to the evidence, Mrs. Welch's mother, Mrs. Sarah Davis, came to Chicago in 1866 from Canada after the death of Davis. At her death Swartz published notices of her demise, referring to her as his wife. This, the court said, greatly influenced the decision that there was a common law marriage.

Back Weak and Painful. Mrs. Miller Benefited by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

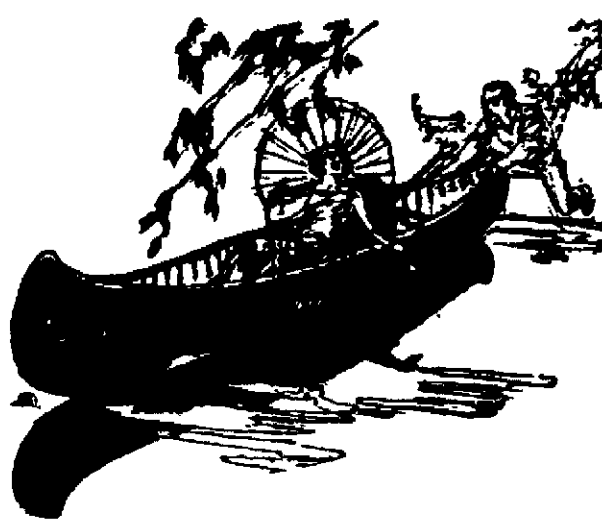

Rotan, Texas.—"I am writing to let you know how I have been benefited by taking your medicine. After my second baby was born my back was weak and hurt me continually, so I thought I'd try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as I had read so much about where it had helped so many women. I had been bothered with my back for over a year, and it would hurt me until I could not do my work, which is keeping house for three and cooking and washing dishes. I tell all my friends if they have any kind of female troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. You may use this testimonial if it will help any one."

In a recent country-wide canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over 121,000 replies were received, and 98 out of every 100 reported they were benefited by its use. For sale by druggists everywhere.

New Roland is in jail, a bit dazed, but unrepentant. And Amherst, secluded Maine woods town, knows that it won't hear the whang of Roland's gun any more, and school is suspended while another teacher is being sought.

Whitwell Farm-Life Classes

The pageant "Country Life," presented by the Whitwell Farm-Life school on the school lawn last Monday evening was a portrayal of the goal which the Whitwell community is trying to reach—a satisfying life on the farm with equal education for the children. The pageant, selected "Queen of Country Life," was crowned and presided over her court most graciously. The procession from the school building to the improvised throne on the lawn was very impressive as it was led by the Queen's Council, Charles Blair, and court attendants, Home, School, Church and Citizenship. Each featured a different phase of the farm life, and the pageant was a very real expression of the hopes and ideals of the school and community.

Girl Believed to Have Drowned Self

(By The Associated Press.)
NORFOLK, Va., May 30.—Grief over her shorn tresses is believed to have caused Miss Virginia Jones, 17-year-old member of the Maury High school graduating class, missing from her home since 4 o'clock this morning to end her life.

The young woman crept out of her home at 4 o'clock this morning, after taking her father's automobile key from his pocket. A few hours later the automobile was found on the waterfront in Lafayette Park. Police and volunteers were dragging the river all day without success in finding trace of the body.

Miss Jones, daughter of Howell H. Jones, sales manager of an automobile concern, had suffered severely under the mental strain in connection with school work, relatives said, and had been despondent for several weeks. Recently she yielded to persuasion of girl friends to have her hair bobbed. The result was disappointing to her, her friends assert, and she wept bitterly over the loss of her locks.

Thursday afternoon Miss Jones and her father played tennis on one of the courts in Lafayette Park. She begged him, Mr. Jones said, to remain in the park until dark. They sat and talked of the river as twilight descended, he said, and talked. The girl, her father said, was deeply despondent.

This morning at 4 o'clock Mr. Jones was awakened to find his daughter in his bedroom. Asked why she was there, she is said to have replied that she wanted to see his watch to learn the time. When Mr. Jones arose a few hours later, he discovered his automobile key was missing from his pocket. He then found that his daughter was not in her room. Subsequently the empty automobile was found in the park by the river bank.

FINAL SCENES IN HEARING OF BISHOPS TODAY

Brown, Himself Is Due to Be Cross Examined Briefly.

(By The Associated Press.)
CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 30.—Final scenes in the trial of William Montague Brown, retired bishop of the Protestant Episcopal church were due today. The bishop himself was due to be cross-examined, probably briefly. There were a few odds and ends of the record to be attended to and the closing summaries of the attorneys to be heard.

It was learned that a complete decision in the case is not likely at this time. The trial board of bishops probably will enter their finding, as a jury, whether Bishop Brown is guilty of teaching doctrines not held by the church. The decision of the board as to the finding of the many doctrinal points involved in the proceeding will not, however, be handed down until late just when this will be problematical.

The church law does not provide a time for a report by the court and it might be delayed for months.

In case a verdict of guilty is returned, there will be a choice of three sentences. The court may administer the defendant, suspend him from office or definitely depose him from the ministry.

General Business Conditions Slack

RICHMOND, Va., May 30.—Further hesitancy and slackening in activities of the business world, partly seasonal, have been noted since the middle of April, according to the Richmond Federal Reserve Bank's monthly review, issued tonight.

While part of the decrease was attributed to seasonal conditions, the bank stated that there were signs the "slowing up" was partly based upon an uncertainty about future prospects.

"The comparative prosperity of the district during the past eighteen months has rested largely upon the great activity in construction enterprises and on the improved financial condition of our agricultural population," the bank stated, "but fears have been expressed that the building boom has passed its crest, and there is, of course, no certainty that 1931 will prove as satisfactory a year for the Fifth District farmers as 1923."

Reports from regularly reporting members showed reductions in outstanding loans to customers and in discounts at the federal reserve bank. Both these reductions, the bank review related, were contrary to average seasonal demands for credit. Demand deposits declined during April, but time deposits gained, according to the review.

"Business failures in the Fifth District were numerous in either March or this year or April last year, and the total of liabilities involved also was greater than during April, 1923. In March, 1924, when a single corporation failed for approximately $40,000,000," the report said.

The labor situation was reported satisfactory on the whole, with the exception of farm labor. Less coal than at any previous period on record, excepting times of general strikes but customers needs are being supplied promptly," according to the bank.

"Textile mills have curtailed running time very materially in the absence of forward orders, and are making time until it becomes possible to judge the prospects for the 1924 cotton crop with some degree of accuracy."

"Cotton prices fluctuate from day to day, but the fluctuations are between narrow limits, and during the past few months quotations have been higher than during the same period last year. April consumption in cotton was somewhat greater than had been expected in view of widespread reports of curtailment in the Fifth District during April, but the amount of time at the mill was 17 per cent less than the number of bales used in April 1923.

"Agriculture is getting away to a late start, due to an unusually wet and cold spring, but general outlook for the season is fairly good, and prospects for fruit are the best in several years. "New construction work is holding up in remarkable volume, both the number of permits issued and the estimated valuation in the Fifth District during April being greater than during any other month on record, except April 1923.

"Retail trade was better in April (than in April, 1923), but the improvement was chiefly due to the lateness of Easter this year. Wholesale trade in April was better than in April, 1923, in grocery stores, shoes, furniture and, except April 1923.

"Collections were distinctly harder to make during April than during the corresponding month last year, judging from reports sent in by one hundred and thirty wholesale firms." During the month of April there were 77,911 pounds of tobacco sold on the open markets of Virginia, the report said, pointing out that only the dark and sun-dried markets were open during the period.

An Intimate Story of Innermost Emotions Revealed in Private Letters

"You look quite unhappy, Karl. Much more so than a young man who is going to marry a delightful girl in the near future should look."

Karl made no comment on my speech. Instead, he drew from his vest pocket a small package enclosed in white tissue paper.

"From something you said the other day," Leslie concluded that you went to your father's attorney, Mr. Corcoran, for advice on selling your pearls, and I decided that if I could find them again, your string should be complete.

"The old gentleman was greatly loath to tell me anything about them. In fact, he disclaimed knowing anything about them, until I explained that it was a matter of great importance to me that the string of pearls which I had given to you as a memento of our childish companionship, on your wedding day, should be complete.

"After a great deal of persuading, he told me that he had given you a letter to a Mr. Anstey, a friend of his who was a jewel broker, and he knew that you had sent them to him because his friend had told him that he bought three very fine pearls from the young lady that he had sent him."

"You don't know whether he has sold them yet?" I asked.

"I haven't the slightest idea, but you might go and find out," he gave me his card with an inquiry about the pearls written on it.

"Fortunately luck was with me. I found the man still had them. He told me he had been on the point of selling them three or four times, and at the last moment something had happened which broke off negotiations."

"Now," Karl said, unfolding the paper, "here they are, and your string is intact. It almost seems as though it were something that fate had decided upon," he concluded.

"It almost seems," I repeated, "that you are perhaps the nicest man in all the world. I oughtn't to take them, Karl. I said balancing the little white gems in my hand."

"Don't deprive me of that great pleasure. Every one of those gems has a distinct association for me, and although I cannot connect each one with its proper association, yet when I knew the other day there were still three absent from your string I felt as though I had been deprived of three very happy memories."

"It is very sweet of you, Karl, dear, to do all this for me. I was just telling you again that under no consideration, without your full consent and knowledge, will I ever dispose of another one of these beautiful jewels."

"Silently Karl's hand reached across the table and clasped mine. Looking into his eyes the compact was made. I was wondering now, Ruth, what I will do if Jack insists upon me sending them back."

RELIEF DRIVER BOYER PILOTS CORUM'S CAR TO VICTORY IN RECORD TIME IN 500-MILE RACE

(By The Associated Press)
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 30.—The annual 500-mile race, at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway today produced record-breaking time for the great gasoline classic and brought honors to two race drivers—Joe Boyer of Detroit and L. L. Corum of Indianapolis. To Boyer goes the credit for bringing the winning car across the finish line, while to Corum who was in the driver's seat of the victorious car as it flashed at the start, will go the rich cash prize of approximately $30,000.

Boyer, who retired when his own car developed trouble, piloted the winning machine over the last 233 miles but W. D. Edenburn, representative of the contest board of the American Automobile Association, declared that under the rules Corum would be credited with victory, and therefore is entitled to the prize money. Boyer and Corum were teammates driving Indianapolis made cars.

HIGH POINT TAKES BOTH GAMES FROM WINSTON

WINSTON, May 30.—High Point won both games here today, from the locals. The first contest was a pitching duel between Mott and Wertz, which went to the former Weaver, who went in the ninth hit a home run inside the park.

In the second, limited to seven innings by agreement, the High Point aggregation scored in the third, fifth and sixth while the Twins were unable to count but one, in the fifth.

Four thousand and two hundred fans were out to see the games, crowding on to the playing field.

Herndon was put out of the game for protesting and a part of last season's team to play first base. Elmer Elmer and a spectator engaged in an argument that came near terminating in a fist fight.

TOMMY GIBBONS

(By The Associated Press)
MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., May 31.—George Carpentier, ring idol of France, boxes in America for the third time today when he meets Tom Gibbons of St. Paul in a 10 round international contest, late this afternoon in the sky blue arena on the eastern edge of this little city.

The former world's light-heavyweight champion, making his American debut in 1920 with a victory over Battling Levinsky then to succumb to the terrific punch of champion Jack Dempsey in the famous battle of the century a year later, faces his physical and boxing equal this afternoon in what promises to be a thrilling duel of fists between two of the hardest hitting and cleverest light-heavyweights in the world.

The betting odds today slightly favored Gibbons, a master boxer, to win the newspaper decision in the event the contest goes the limit. There was considerable betting at even money that the contest would terminate in a knockout within six rounds, with the sentiment as to the victor under those circumstances about evenly divided.

The majority of the newspaper experts were of the opinion that Gibbons, if he succeeded in evading Carp's dangerous right hand blow for four or five rounds, would be returned to the winner. The impression prevailed among the experts that Gibbons, instead of intending to fight close range, probably would elect to box him and rely on wearing him down, turning him out and make him the target for a finishing blow in the final round.

Both boxers, however, have promised an aggressive contest. Carpentier knows no other style. The French boxer is noted for his tactics in carrying the fight to his opponent, always watching for an opportunity to sneak over his right hand punch which almost dropped Jack Dempsey. Carpentier in his training, continually slashed out with that blow and crowded into his sparring mates, indicating he intends to keep as close as possible to Gibbons instead of allowing the fishy Et. Paul boxer to keep him at a safe distance with his famous left hand.

With the arrival of the first special train from Chicago dumping its load of boxing fans, Michigan City awakened in full life prepared to handle a crowd of at least 20,000 strangers.

Before 9 o'clock a crowd began swarming around the arena and the ticket booths where the 5,000 seats were on sale.

The usual pre-battle statements lap prizes, this money going to Cooper, Murphy and Boyer. Boyer got into the lap money by showing his own car over the tape first in the initial lap. Cooper's lap prizes were announced as totaling $3,400 and Murphy's as $2,800.

Cooper's steady driving which kept him in front almost from the start seemed to many speed fans certain to bring him victory but tire trouble as the goal was neared, caused him to lag behind Boyer, who was pressing him closely. During the last 100 miles the pace became terrific, both Cooper and Boyer driving at better than 104 miles an hour. In his desperation to regain first place, Cooper threw caution to the winds and went into the turns wide open. Twice he narrowly escaped wrecking his car by skidding. When he was forced to the pits the second time within five minutes, however, his hopes for the big prize vanished. In addition to the lap money Cooper won $10,000 cash for second place.

Grandstand Gaff

UST politely gave the first away and naturally took the second. That's what the Tobaccoists did yesterday in the double holiday program out at Stonewall Jackson park. Eight errors, all in the infield, is what gave Carroll the first contest. Greensboro earned only one of her five runs while Danville earned all four. A batting rally near the end of the game fell short just one run of tying the count. The second event was more like a ball game. Shoaf's splendid pitching held back the visitors and the locals improved playing and more timely batting gave Murphy the victory.

Speaking of the gift to Greensboro of the opening game, fans themselves were largely responsible. How's a bunch of boys, who are continually jeered, hooted, razed, sneered at, balled out, booed and what not going to play any ball at all. That's what large numbers of so-called, alleged, implied or claim-to-be fans did yesterday in that first game. 'Tis true that the locals started off by a couple of boots. But how could they regain their control and play steady ball under the fire of such razzing that was directed at them especially from the bleachers and lower left end of the grandstand. Such tactics don't pay. Building methods are still a mystery, are worse. Why not a kind word of "too bad, Murphy," or "hard luck Inman," that was a good trye?" No wonder the boys do their best playing away from home, most of the time.

Look at the second game after they had settled down after a brief rest, free from hooting. They played a bang-up game and won too.

Murphy had 13 chances at the short field in the first game. Had he handled all of them cleanly it would probably have been a record.

This afternoon's contest ends the seven-game series this week, of which the locals have won only two. They travel to Raleigh for games Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday and come back home for the last three days with Durham as their guest.

MR. TAXPAYER:

Danville Public Schools

What former Councils did:—

With a real estate assessment of $7,044,780 and a tax rate of $1.40, built Rison Park School.

With a real estate assessment of $8,162,834 and a tax rate of $1.40, built R. E. Lee School.

With a real estate assessment of $9,093,974 and a tax rate of $1.65, built Stonewall Jackson School.

With a real estate assessment of $9,694,190 and a tax rate of $1.65, built Danville High School.

The above building program was financed by former Councils without asking for an increase in the city tax rate.

What has the Good Government Club's Council done for our schools since it has had charge of the city's affairs?

In 1921 with a real estate assessment of $17,778,545 and a tax rate of $1.75, no school was built.

In 1922 with a real estate assessment of $19,686,158 and a tax rate of $1.75, no school was built.

In 1923 with a real estate assessment of $20,390,605 and a tax rate of $1.75 no school was built.

In 1924 with a real estate assessment of $20,969,770 and a tax rate of $1.75, no school has been built.

And now you will see from the above that the Good Government Club's Council has not given the School Board any money for school buildings, although the assessment was nearly three times as much, and the tax rate was higher than when former Councils built our four best schools.

With the above facts existing, the Good Government Club's candidates for the Council, six of whom are members of the present Council, state in their open letter of June 20, 1924. "We believe that the welfare, education, and development of the children of the community is the City's first concern." Is this consistent?

SCHOOL CHILDREN OF DANVILLE: Have you had a square deal from the Good Government Club's Council? Your fathers and mothers will answer that question with their votes on June 10, 1924.

McAdoo Gets What He Goes After

BY DR. WM. M. MARSTON
Washington Psychologist and Psycho-Analyst.

William Gibbs McAdoo has a singularly firm, compact face and head. His chin offers some impediment to rapid executive action, but not enough to get him into any great difficulty. A very prominent chin, like that of Woodrow Wilson, his famous father-in-law, is an obstruction to executive progress.

McAdoo's mouth is thin, large and straight. This means he doesn't waste words. The drawing of the mouth corners up, and back, together with the deep lines caused by habitual smiling, indicates McAdoo enjoys what he tackles.

The McAdoo nose is a notable feature. A nose may show whether the person is strongly "primitive" or "civilized," or whether the individual is a finished product of advanced civilization. McAdoo's nose shows that he is both, a very unusual combination.

The eyes, again, show a seeming contradiction. At first glance, one might think that McAdoo's eye-balls were set in an inward-pointing triangular socket, signifying sex or love. But, on close inspection, we find that this effect is caused by a very evenly rounded eye-lid, and a slight upward slant of the whole eye, toward its outer extremity.

The actual socket-shape is shown clearly in the right eye, in the picture, to be an outward-pointing triangle. The apex of this triangle, however, marked by the heaviest shadow just over the thickest portion of the eye-lid, is far toward the middle of the triangle's base, that it is not a right-angled triangle.

The final interpretation of this mixed condition in McAdoo's eyes might well be that he possesses a quixotically generous, warm-hearted tendency in his actions.

The dome-curve of McAdoo's head, above his forehead, is an unusually fine one. This indicates, among other things, that he can co-operate admirably with his colleagues or superiors.

To sum up: Mr. McAdoo's forehead and mouth are made for quick, decisive action, and anything that such a mouth once gets hold of will be well taken care of. The McAdoo nose is a thoroughly sophisticated affair. The eyes of Mr. McAdoo see everything as his oyster, though they may, whimsically, choose to give a pearl away after the bivalve is safely opened.

WILLIAM G. McADOO ANALYZED

Work Is Only Play He Knows

By NEA Service

DES MOINES, Ia., May 31.—Edwin T. Meredith's friends sometimes succeed in scolding him into a golf game at Wakonda Country Club.

But very seldom. The former secretary of agriculture generally is too busy when the "golf bugs" come around. He has little time for play—that is in the way most people understand the term. For work is the only game he is interested in. It is the only play he really enjoys.

Every morning he rises at 7, breakfasts and reads the morning paper. By 8:30 he is at his office.

His work on the three agricultural publications at his plant consists mostly in pepping up the force, making suggestions and writing a few editorials. Much of his time goes to visitors.

His office door stands open. And Meredith often walks through the wide, homelike hall to see an employee or greet a visitor. He always is approachable.

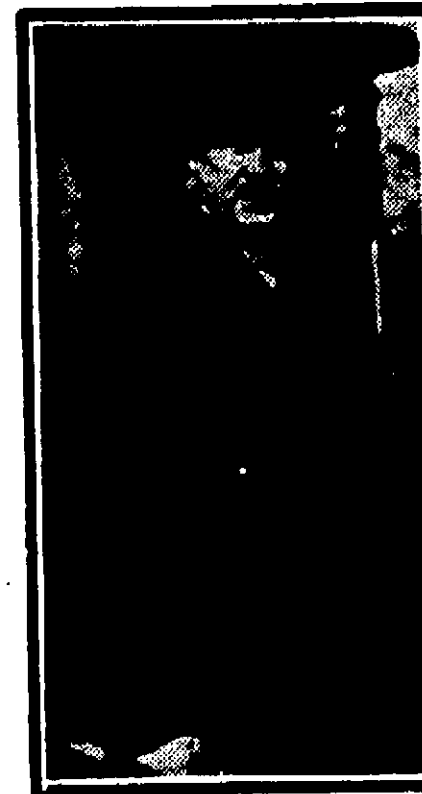

And moving into the White House would not change him in the least, his friends insist.

Meredith, however, is not giving such a move a thought. He doesn't want to be president.

Friends are urging him to seek the Democratic nomination. Meredith refuses. He is for William Gibbs McAdoo. And nobody can cause him to desert McAdoo's standard.

There are, however, those who think McAdoo should find he cannot muster the required number of votes will switch his delegates to Meredith. In that event, the former secretary might have the nomination literally pushed off on him.

He remains on the job until 5:30 and goes home tired. He and Mrs. Meredith have sold their town home. They are living now in a hotel suite while planning to build on the farm. After dinner, he rests. He used to work, but he's learned better. He reads and tunes in with his radio. If it is a "normal" night, he retires by 11. But often he catches a night train for some point where he is scheduled to speak next day.

WHOLE FLOCK OF ICEBERGS SIGHTED

(By The Associated Press.)

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., May 30.—Justas the Coast Guard and hydrographic departments were about to put down 1924 as a year of few icebergs, the Coast Guard Cutter Tampa has sent in a radio message reporting the sighting of 67 bergs and 22 growlers in the vicinity of Belle Isle.

The Tampa and the Modoc have been cruising off the grand banks since February and have reported sighting but few bergs. As a matter of fact, ice was so scarce in the lanes of navigation it was about conceded by ship masters that they would not be troubled this year. Fewer bergs were sighted off the grand banks this year than in any year since 1918. The Modoc and Tampa moved over towards Cape Haul and Belle Isle in search of ice, when they failed to find any off the grand banks and to use the words of one ship master they "fell into a frozen hell". The sighting of 67 bergs as reported by the Tampa caused a distinct sensation in ship plus circles and warnings were sent broadcast to ships at sea to proceed cautiously when passing in the vicinity.

BUILDING ACTIVITY IN STATE UNABATED

(By The Associated Press.)

RICHMOND, Va., May 30.—Building operations in the fifth Federal Reserve District, which have been holding a good average for many months, continue "unabated," according to the Monthly Review of the Richmond Federal Reserve Bank, issued tonight.

"While both the number of permits issued in April and the total valuation of the work were lower than in April, 1923, the figures for April, 1924, were higher than those reported for any other month since the Reserve Bank began tabulating the figures in 1919," it was stated.

Most of the work provided for in the April permits was residence or apartment construction. Business buildings forming a considerably smaller percentage of the total than was the case in the years between 1919 and 1923, according to the bank.

The twenty-six cities reporting to the Richmond institution showed a total of 2,567 permits issued in April, 1924, for new construction, with estimated valuation of $16,742,524, compared with 3,100 permits, with estimated valuation of $23,864,180, issued in the same cities during April, 1923.

"Noteworthy gains in total valuations this year," the report read, "were reported by Huntington, W. Va., Durham, Greensboro, Raleigh and Salisbury, N. C.; and Columbia and Spartanburg, S. C.; while Roanoke, Va., Charleston, W. Va., Charlotte, High Point and Wilmington, N. C., Charleston, S. C., and Washington, D. C., reported material decreases in total valuation under April, 1923."

"Baltimore reported a big decrease in the number of permits issued, but the decrease in valuation was relatively small. The greatest slackening in building activity is noted in Washington, D. C., the number of permits falling from 660 in April, 1923, to 307 in April, 1924, and estimated valuation falling from $9,961,600 to $3,068,168."

CONFERENCE REPORT ADOPTED IN HOUSE

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 30.—The conference report on the agricultural appropriation bill, carrying $61,147,993 was adopted today by the House. As originally passed in the House, the measure authorized $66,583,743. The report must yet be acted upon by the Senate.

As reported from conference, the bill appropriates $452,540 as proposed by the Senate, for enforcement of the packers and stockyards act, instead of $226,770 as first written in by the House. The conference agreed on a proviso, replacing one inserted by the House and stricken out in the Senate, stipulating that the secretary to agriculture may require reasonable bonds from registrants to secure the performance of their obligations, under the packers and stockyards act.

It also provides that after due notice and hearing, any registrant found insolvent or violating any provision of the act may be suspended within five days for a reasonable definite period. This suspension may, however, be modified or set aside by the secretary to agriculture, or a court of competent jurisdiction.

PRESBYTERIANS CALL OPIUM CONFERENCE

(By The Associated Press.)

RICHMOND, Ind., May 30.—The general assembly of the United Presbyterian church today adopted a resolution calling on the internal opium conference to tighten restrictions on the use of narcotics and to advocate substitution of the words "scientific and medical" for "necessary" in the article in the league of nations covenant.

A resolution expressing a desire to co-operate with other religious organizations in church work also was adopted.

EMIGRANTS PRESENT BOOTLEGGING PROBLEM

(By The Associated Press.)

MONTREAL, May 30.—Bootleg traffic in immigrants, smuggled by automobile across the Quebec border into the United States has reached such proportions that jails in northern New York, Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine are filling up with aliens ineligible for admission. J. R. Clark, a United States immigration commissioner said today.

The immigration service is strengthening its frontier patrol. Mr. Clark announced, to combat organized bootlegging of aliens. Federal courts are handing out stiff penalties. Although few judges impose the maximum penalty, which, under war time passport regulations still effective, is ten years imprisonment and $10,000 fine.

Britishers waiting for admission to the United States in Canada, Mr. Clark asserted, more than fill the quota of 62,000 for the entire year beginning July 1.

TWO MEN KILLED IN GAS TANK EXPLOSION

(By The Associated Press.)

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., May 30.—Two men were killed and two boats valued at $20,000 were destroyed at Tarpon Springs today when a 1,000 gallon gasoline tank exploded while being filled.

The two men, Michael Konstantine, owner of the boat Efficat, and Alexander Filaretos, engaged in filling the tank were blown into the air when the tank exploded. Konstantine struck the pier and fell into the water, while his companion was blown against the boat's mast, crushing his ribs. Konstantine, who was taken from the water was found to have both legs broken and other injuries. They died in a hospital to-night.

The force of the explosion shattered the windows within a radius of ten blocks and a boat alongside the Efficat was sunk.

Unromantic Radio!

When you watch two lovers on the stage in an affectionate embrace, the sight of it alone may produce a romantic thrill in you. But you'll have to use your imagination whenever you hear the lovers kiss by radio. Because all the thrill and romance and affection is superseded by a mere snarl of the lips on the back of the hand. Dan Tothero and Pearl King Tanner are shown above in a stage embrace and, lower photo, how they send their kisses during a radio play broadcast from KGO at Oakland, Cal.

RADIO NOTES

BOOTLEGGING STOPPED

Radio bootlegging of unauthorized neodyne receivers has been cut off with the conviction of a New York man in court of special sessions there. The case is interesting, not so much from the bootlegging angle, as from the idea that it is expected to settle certain manufacturing rights.

ANOTHER BEACON

Automatic radio beacons, to guide ships at sea, are being put up in quick succession. The latest has been put out at Seal Island, Nova Scotia.

WORLD RADIO UNION

Plans are being pushed for final organization of the International Amateur Radio Union, to take place at a special congress in Paris during the Easter holidays of 1925. President Abram Percy Maxim of the American Radio Relay League came back recently from a preliminary conference for this purpose.

RADIO WORLD'S FAIR

Nine-tenths of the exhibiting space in Madison Square Garden, New York, has already been taken for the first radio world's fair to be held Sept. 22-28-29. Many foreign radio interests are expected to take part in the exhibition.

RADIO TABS

Austria is to start regular broadcasting on July 1.

Nearly 300 radio books have been published in the last two years.

Wires should be kept as far apart as possible.

Station KFNZ, Shenandoah, Pa., has a pig for mascot.

Rub panel with pumice to obtain a soft, satin finish.

Summer time is hard on long distance reception.

Grid and plate leads of tube sockets should be away from the panel.

About 100 German firms are manufacturing amateur radio apparatus and parts.

CKAC, Montreal, is being transformed into what may be the most powerful station in the world.

U. S. Navy is gradually substituting tube sets for the old-fashioned sparks.

WBAH, Minneapolis, reports having been received in Berlin, Germany.

Oakland Calif. public school system may enter the broadcasting ranks.

Station KGO, Oakland, Calif., reports an orphanage of Eskimo children at Tallur, Alaska, among its fans.

Variometer shafts should be of brass or copper, not of iron or steel.

Once the reception is good, let the set alone.

TEN DIE IN MINE FIRE

(By The Associated Press.)

OVIEDO, Spain, May 30.—Ten men are known to have perished in a mine fire here and rescue workers are attempting to save others known to be in the workings.

FIST FIGHT STAGED IN ITALIAN SENATE

(By The Associated Press.)

ROME, May 30.—Reference by Signor Giunia, nationalist deputy, to the Socialists as "that gang" in the chamber today caused a general exchange of fistfuls between members of the center and left.

Discussing the return of the old standing rule, Signor Giunia declared he felt himself representative of the old Fascismo in which capacity he wished to recall the impositions, insults and violence sustained from that gang. He pointed toward the benches where the Socialists and followers of former Premier Nitti were sitting. General Benvenuto, newly elected on the opposition ticket, rushed to the center of the chamber followed by Giovanni Amendola, Fascist. A general exchange of blows followed during which the general fell to the floor after which the sitting was suspended.

After the session was resumed, the president of the chamber Rocco deplored the incident and urged calm and moderation. Signor Giunia resumed his address but the Socialist deputies left the hall in protest.

HEAVY SNOW IN UTAH

(By The Associated Press.)

OGDEN, Utah, May 30.—A snowfall of from 12 to 18 inches was reported from the vicinity of Evanston, Wyoming, late last night.

SPECIALIST STUDYING VOLCANO

(By The Associated Press.)

HILA, T. H., May 30.—Professor T. A. Jaggar, noted volcanologist, who made a hurried trip here from the continental United States to observe the activity of Kilauea said today he could not make any prediction as to the volcano's behavior until he had put in several days in making observations. Professor Jaggar spent several years here studying the volcano some time ago.

Yesterday Professor Jaggar passed several hours at the volcano. He expressed surprise at the great enlargement of the pit of the crater, though he said that the series of eruptions within the last four or five years has given indications that the lip of the crater would collapse. The present situation in Kilauea is similar to that existing in Mount Vesuvius in 1906, the professor said. There has been no unusual activity in Kilauea since Jaggar arrived.

HOWARD LEADING

(By The Associated Press.)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 30.—Charles P. Howard, president of the International Typographical Union, was leading in his contest for re-election by 13,622 votes to 10,206 for James M. Lynch, of Syracuse, N. Y., according to unofficial returns announced at the headquarters of the Union here today.

It was stated then the vote represented approximately half of the membership of the Union and included 40 locals, some being among the largest in the organization.

OUT GAS PRICES IN ST. PAUL

(By The Associated Press.)

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 30.—Gasoline prices dropped approximately three cents a gallon at all filling stations in St. Paul, Minn., today. Low test gasoline sold for 18 cents against the previous price of 20.9 cents and high test sold for 21 cents against 23.9.

The reduction followed action of the St. Paul automobile club in selling gasoline to its members in an attempt to force reduction by the filling stations.

PETITIONS FOR LAFOLLETTE'S CANDIDACY CIRCULATED

(By The Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, May 30.—Petitions asking Senator Robert M. LaFollette to be an independent candidate for the presidency are being circulated by the national LaFollette-for-president committee. It was learned today that the petition does not ask him to head a third party and it is understood he will not consent to do so on a national scale.

S. J. Koenekamp, Cook county chairman of the conference for progressive political action, said today Mr. Koenekamp added that who ever might be nominated at Cleveland, Senator LaFollette would be the regular Republican candidate in Wisconsin.

Farmer Killed in Barn Demolished by Storm

(By The Associated Press.)

CAPE CHARLES, Va., May 30.—John H. Parks, farmer of Accomac county met death late today in an electric storm which did damage to crops and buildings of this section estimated at over $200,000. Parks was caught between two beams of his barn when it was demolished by winds which attained the velocity of a tornado. The storm was accompanied by cloud bursts and a heavy downpour of hail stones, and to have been nearly as large as hen eggs.

The strange error which was at the peak of movement was apparently completely destroyed by the hail and rain, and constitutes the greatest loss, though other crops suffered and many buildings were wrecked.

Amazing Chain of Circumstantial Evidence Linked Around Alleged Slayer

By ROBERT T. SMALL
Copyright, 1934, By The Bee

NEW YORK, May 30.—Circumstantial evidence has another victim in a noted murder trial, sending Harry L. Hoffman, moving picture operator to the penitentiary for the murder of Mrs. Maud A. Bauer on Staten Island some two months ago.

The jury found Hoffman guilty of murder in the second degree. The people of the city today stunned by the mildness of the verdict for the murder itself was one of the most atrocious crimes the metropolitan district has known. But strong as was the chain of circumstances linked about Hoffman, the prosecution was unable to prove the premeditation which might have sent the young man to the electric chair.

Medical experts who have observed Hoffman during his trial are of the opinion that Hoffman really has only himself to blame for much of the testimony used against him. In a panic condition after the crime Hoffman so conducted himself that when suspicion at last was directed toward him, guilty circumstances rose up as if by magic to accuse him.

If Hoffman is innocent, as he still claims, the circumstances which convicted him are the most remarkable coincidences students of criminal history ever have encountered. It was nearly a month before the moving picture operator was suspected, but now it seems that his every act since the crime has proved to be a guilty one.

The murder itself was an atrocious affair, being, but for the fact that it was committed in the home of Mrs. Bauer, started to walk to the nearest village to get assistance, leaving her mother with the car. She had gone but a few hundred yards when a young man in a Ford sedan stopped and offered to give her a lift. She, who had never thought and gladly accepted the offer. The waiting mother saw her daughter enter the car. When she emerged but a few minutes later she was dead—brutally beaten and shot.

The theory of the crime from the first has been that the young man in the sedan attacked the woman and because of her resistance she was slain. If only the police could have proved the attack came first and the woman was killed afterward to cover the crime this would have constituted premeditation and a first degree verdict might have resulted.

In attacking the case the police had but two tangle bits of evidence to go on. One was that a Ford sedan was used. The second was that a little girl noticed the man in the car was a brown fellow. They also knew that the murder was committed with a 25-caliber automatic pistol and that the man had committed a similar crime on other women by inviting them into his car.

There are so many brown hats in the world and perhaps even more fields of them that the task of detecting them is almost all but insuperable. As the police tackled it, they announced that the owner of a Ford sedan on Staten Island would be seized. Just here the hand of fate began to work against Hoffman. He knew he owned a Ford sedan. He knew that he had worn a brown felt hat on the day of the murder. He knew that he owned a 25-caliber automatic, which he had bought just before the crime. He also knew that he had committed a similar crime on other women by inviting them into his car.

Then, according to his own testimony, he began to feel a "damned fool." This was the only explanation he gave of the fact that he had been seized by the police. He had been seized by the police. He had been seized by the police. He had been seized by the police.

BIG

Small banks earn a higher percentage of profit than big banks. This is discovered through a survey by the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston. For instance, one big bank with a million dollars to loan will usually make less money from it than if it were distributed among 10 country bankers, each using $100,000.

The reverse often holds true in business and is a factor in the high cost of living. There is a point in the development of large corporations and semi-monopolies where the economies made possible by size are eclipsed by overhead and other expenses due to size. We might all be more prosperous if many of our large corporations were dissolved into chains of small businesses, if not too small.

BIKES

This is hard to believe, but it's true: Americans are using more bicycles now than during the "bicycle craze" 25 years ago.

The auto didn't put the bicycle industry out of business, though it did paralyze it for a while.

The process will repeat when airplanes come by the millions. We'll need all the planes we can get, also all the autos. There is room for both. The new no longer displaces the old, they help each other.

CROOKS

Three hundred thousand professional criminals in our country, reports the National Surety Company. That's a low estimate. It doesn't include the profiteers and petty cheaters who operate within the law.

The professional criminals each year steal 3000 million dollars of American money and property. This is only a shadow of the stealing by the aforementioned profiteers and petty cheaters.

Dishonesty begins wherever full value is not given for price paid or services rendered.

they would not adjudge a man guilty of circumstances alone. The State and a court of law. Its case was entirely one of accusing circumstances.

A unique phase of the case was the testimony of a pistol expert that no two pistol firing pins are alike and that under microscopic examination it is possible to identify the revolver which fired certain shells. Two shells were found with Mrs. Bauer's body. The expert said the impressions on these shells were made by Hoffman's gun.

Everyman's Investments

By GEORGE T. HUGHES

Twenty-Fourth Article.

DIVERSIFICATION.

What is called diversification is one of the most essential conditions of sound investment. By diversification is meant spreading out one's investment funds among securities covering different industries and different sections of the country. The idea is that should one industry or any one section of the country be unfavorably affected, others would not be involved. People who write to me for advice upon investments continually declare that they want absolute safety. Safety is a relative term. The safest investments are United States Government bonds and the factor of safety declines as you go down the list and as the return on the investment rises. That is to say roughly as a class investments returning 6 per cent. are safer than those returning 7 per cent. There are, of course, individual exceptions to the rule and sometimes a return higher than the average may be secured without lessening the degree of safety. But these are exceptions and the untrained investor is in no position to recognize them. He may, however, compensate partly for the additional risk by this principle of diversification. It will be at once obvious that when one's capital is very small it is impossible to diversify. This is one of the reasons why the small investor should take only securities of the highest grade. It should be added that while diversification is generally an advantage it can be carried to an extreme. If you divide up your funds among too many different kinds of bonds it becomes difficult to keep yourself properly informed. And everyone should be able more or less to keep in touch with the affairs of the corporation of industry in which he is financially interested. Last rule is one to keep in mind when you are asked to put your money in some enterprise a long way from home.

PILGRIMS TO ROME

ROME May 31.—More than 2,000 pilgrims are expected to journey to Rome in 1936, the Holy Year. Thus the Vatican and municipal and government authorities in Rome find themselves confronted with a serious housing problem. The Vatican will do its best to meet the situation by arranging for hundreds of the poorer pilgrims to sleep in the various convents and monasteries which dot the Eternal City.
